About Evaluation

For the purpose of increasing student learning growth by improving the quality of instructional, administrative, and supervisory services in the public schools of the state, the district school superintendent shall establish procedures for evaluating the performance of duties and responsibilities of all instructional, administrative, and supervisory personnel employed by the school district. Florida Statutes Section 1012.34 (1) (a).

What does this mean?

To accomplish the purpose defined in law, a district evaluation system for school administrator's must:

1. Be focused on school leadership actions that impact student learning, and;
2. Support professional learning on performance of duties and responsibilities that matter most for student learning, faculty and leadership development.

The evaluation system adopted by the district is:

- ✓ Based on contemporary research that reveals educational leadership behaviors that, when done correctly and in appropriate circumstances, have a positive impact on student learning and faculty development.
- ✓ Fully aligned with the Florida Principal Leadership Standards – a State Board of Education rule that sets expectations for principal performance (SBE Rule 6A-5.080).

A New Approach to Evaluation: This evaluation system is designed to support three processes:

- Self-reflection by the leader on current proficiencies and growth needs (What am I good at? What can I do better?)
- Feedback from the evaluator and other stakeholders on what needs improvement.
- An annual summative evaluation that assigns one of the four performance levels required by law (Highly Effective, Effective, Needs Improvement, or Unsatisfactory).

What is Evaluated?

Evaluation of school leaders is based on observation, survey results, and evidence about certain leadership behaviors AND the impact of a leader's behavior on others.

The portion of evaluation that involves "impact on others" comes in two components:

1. Student Growth Measures: At least 50% of a school leader's annual evaluation is based on the performance of students in the school on specific state or district assessments (FCAT, EOC exams, and other appropriate assessments as they become available).
2. The Leadership Practice: This component contributes the remaining percentage of the school leader's evaluation. Leadership Practice combines results of the Escambia Leader Assessment (ELA) and an additional Metric – Plan of Deliberate Practice (PDP). The ELA contribution to evaluation is based on observation of the leader's actions and the leader's impact on the actions and behaviors of others.

The processes and forms described in the following pages are focused on the Leadership Practice component of evaluation.

Training and Reflection

The content of the district evaluation system informs those evaluated and those doing evaluations of the issues to address and the processes to use.

- Those being evaluated use these documents to guide self-reflection on practices that improve your work.
- Evaluators provide both recurring feedback to guide growth in proficiency in district priorities and provide summative performance ratings.
- Those who are both evaluated by this system and evaluate others with it will do both.

Things to know:

1. The Research Framework(s) on which the evaluation system is based. Each research framework is associated with particular approaches to instruction or leadership. The research aligned with the district framework(s) is a useful source of deeper understanding of how to implement strategies correctly and in appropriate circumstances. Evaluators can provide better feedback to sub-ordinates when they understand the research framework
2. Inter-rater reliability: Evaluators in the district should be able to provide sub-ordinates similar feedback and rating so that there is consistent use of the evaluation system across the district. This is promoted by training on the following:
 - a. The “look fors” – what knowledge, skills, and impacts are identified as system priorities by inclusion of Elements in the evaluation system.
 - b. The Rubrics – how to distinguish proficiency levels.
 - c. Rater reliability checks. Processes for verifying raters meet district expectations in using the rubrics.
3. Specific, Actionable, and Timely Feedback Processes: What evaluators observe does not promote improvement unless it is conveyed to employees as specific, actionable and timely manner. Training on how to do so is essential.
4. Conferences protocols and use of forms: Know what is required regarding meetings, conference procedures, use of forms, and records.
5. Processes and procedures for implementing the evaluation system
 - a. Evidence gathering: What sources are to be used?
 - b. Timeframes, record keeping
 - c. Scoring rules
6. Student Growth Measures: What are the districts requirements regarding use of student growth measures in the district’s evaluation system?

7. Sources of information about the evaluation system: Where can evaluators and employees access manuals, forms, documents etc. regarding the evaluation process.
8. Additional metrics: Training on any additional metrics use to supplement the practice portion of evaluation.

Framework: Leadership Evaluation

A Multi-Dimensional Framework: This evaluation system is based on contemporary research and meta-analyses by Dr. Douglas Reeves, Dr. John Hattie, Dr. Vivian Robinson, Dr. Robert Marzano and other research findings that identify school leadership strategies or behaviors that, done correctly and in appropriate circumstances, have a positive probability of improving student learning and faculty proficiency on instructional strategies that positively impact student learning.

Additional Metric: Plan of Deliberate Practice Guidelines

Deliberate Practice: The leaders work on specific improvements in mastery of educational leadership is a separate metric and is combined with the ELA Domain Scores to determine a summative leadership score.

Plan of Deliberate Practice (PDP) Component(s) and Target(s) for School Leader Growth
Deliberate Practice Priorities: The leader and the evaluator identify at least two specific and measurable priority learning goals related to teaching, learning, or school leadership practices that impact student learning growth. One goal must be a student growth goal related to an area of student learning addressed in the district’s Strategic Plan or the school’s School Improvement Plan. One goal must be a leader growth goal related to a component of the ELA leadership practice and must include stakeholder input (Parent Satisfaction, Employee Engagement). Additional goals are acceptable. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The target of a deliberate practice process describe an intended result and will include “scales” or progress points that guide the leader toward highly effective levels of personal mastery.• The leader takes actions to make discernible progress on those priority goals; monitors progress toward them, uses the monitoring data to make adjustments to practice, and provides measurable evidence of growth in personal mastery of the targeted priorities.• The evaluator monitors progress and provides feedback.• The targets are “thin slices” of specific gains sought – not broad overviews or long term goals taking years to accomplish.• Deliberate practices ratings are based on comparison of proficiency at a “start point” and proficiency at a designated “evaluation point”. The start point data can be based on a preceding year ELA evaluation data on a specific Element or Component, or determined by school leader and evaluator either at the end of the preceding work year or at the start of the new work year in which the PDP targets will be used for evaluation. Relationship to other measures of professional learning: Whereas ELA Element 4.5 addresses the leader’s involvement with professional learning focused on faculty needs and Element 10.2 addresses the leader’s pursuit of learning aligned with a range of school needs, the Deliberate Practice targets are more specific and deeper learning related to teaching, learning, or school leadership practices that impact student learning. The PDP learning processes establish career-long patterns of continuous improvement and lead to high quality instructional leadership. Selecting Growth Targets: Growth target 1: An issue that addresses a strategic plan or school improvement need related to student learning and either selected by the district or approved by leader’s supervisor. The focus should be on complex issues that take some time to master such as providing observation and feedback of high-effect size instructional practices. Growth target 2: An issue related to a knowledge base or skill set relevant to instructional leadership selected by leader. Growth target 3-4: Optional: additional issues as appropriate. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The addition of more targets should involve estimates of the time needed to accomplish targets 1 and 2. Where targets 1 and 2 are projected for mastery in less than half of a school year, identify additional target(s). The description of a target should be modeled along the lines of learning goals. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• A concise description (rubric) of what the leader will know or be able to do• Of sufficient substance to take at least 6 weeks to accomplish• Includes scales or progressive levels of progress that mark progress toward mastery of the goal. Rating Scheme <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Unsatisfactory = no significant effort to work on the targets• Needs Improvement = evidence some of the progress points were accomplished but not all of the targets• Effective = target accomplished• Highly effective = exceeded the targets and able to share what was learned with others to impact others’ learning

Sample (Based on data from E3 teacher evaluation system reports focused on teacher effectiveness):

Target: Leader will be able to provide feedback to classroom teachers on the effectiveness Danielson Framework for Teaching components in Domain 3 (Questioning and Discussion Techniques)

Scales:

Level HE-3 points: Leader develops, implements, and leads a professional learning community or community of practice focused on increasing teachers’ practice from “needs improvement” to “effective” or from “effective to highly effective” based on the Danielson rubric and provides dedicated, scheduled time for learning sessions.

Level E-2 points: Leader provides scheduled dedicated time for presentations on “Questioning and Discussion Techniques” from district curriculum staff on campus during faculty meetings or professional learning days.
 Level NI-1 point: Leader cites the definitions of the rubric language surrounding the different levels on the Danielson rubric for “Questioning and Discussion Techniques” and correctly tags evidence to this component in E3.

Level U-0 points: Leader is unable to define the rubric language surrounding the different levels on the Danielson rubric for “Questioning and Discussion Techniques” and sometimes tags evidence to this component in E3.

ELA Components with Elements

Escambia Leader Assessment

A Multidimensional Leadership Assessment

4 Domains - 10 Components - 45 Elements

A summative performance level is based 50% on Student Growth Measures (SGM) that conform to the requirements of s. 1012.34, F.S., and 50% on a Leadership Practice Score. In the ELA, the Leadership Practice Score is obtained from two metrics:

- Escambia Leader Assessment (including evidence, observation, survey results)
- Plan of Deliberate Practice (PDP) Score

The school leader's ELA Score (including the Plan of Deliberate Practice Score) is used to generate a Leadership Practice Score. The tables below list the school leader performance proficiencies addressed in the four domains of the ELA and the Deliberate Practice Metric.

Domain 1: The focus is on leadership practices that impact prioritization and results for student achievement on priority learning goals - knowing what's important, understanding what's needed, and taking actions that get results.

Domain 1: Student Achievement 2 Components – 8 Elements This domain contributes 20% of the ELA Score
Component 1 - Student Learning Results: Effective school leaders achieve results on the school's student learning goals and direct energy, influence, and resources toward data analysis for instructional improvement, development and implementation of quality standards-based curricula.
Element 1.1 - Academic Standards : The leader demonstrates understanding of student requirements and academic standards (Common Core and NGSSS).
Element 1.2 - Performance Data : The leader demonstrates the use of student and adult performance data to make instructional leadership decisions.
Element 1.3 - Planning and Goal Setting : The leader demonstrates planning and goal setting to improve student achievement.
Element 1.4 - Student Achievement Results : The leader demonstrates evidence of student improvement through student achievement results.
Component 2 - Student Learning as a Priority: Effective school leaders demonstrate that student learning is their top priority through effective leadership actions that build and support a learning organization focused on student success.
Element 2.1 - Learning Organization : The leader enables faculty and staff to work as a system focused on student learning, and engages faculty and staff in efforts to close learning performance gaps among student subgroups within the school.
Element 2.2 - School Climate : The leader maintains a school climate that supports student engagement in learning.
Element 2.3 - High Expectations : The leader generates high expectations for learning growth by all students.
Element 2.4 - Student Performance Focus : The leader demonstrates understanding of present levels of student performance based on routine assessment processes that reflect the current reality of student proficiency on academic standards.

Domain 2: The focus is on instructional leadership - what the leader does and enables others to do that supports teaching and learning.

Domain 2: Instructional Leadership 3 Components – 17 Elements This domain contributes 40% of the ELA Score
Component 3 - Instructional Plan Implementation: Effective school leaders work collaboratively to develop and implement an instructional framework that aligns curriculum with state standards, effective instructional practices, student learning needs, and assessments.
Element 3.1 - FEAPs : The leader aligns the school's instructional programs and practices with the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (FEAPs) (Rule 6A-5.065, F.A.C.), and models use of Florida's common language of instruction to guide faculty and staff's implementation of the foundational principles and practices.

Element 3.2 - Standards-based Instruction : The leader delivers an instructional program that implements the state's adopted academic standards (Common Core and NGSSS) in a manner that is rigorous and culturally relevant to the students by aligning academic standards, effective instruction and leadership, and student performance practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals, and communicating to faculty the cause and effect relationship between effective instruction on academic standards and student performance.
Element 3.3 - Learning Goals Alignments : The leader implements recurring monitoring and feedback processes to insure that priority learning goals established for students are based on the state's adopted student academic standards as defined in state course descriptions, presented in student accessible forms, and accompanied by scales or rubrics to guide tracking progress toward student mastery.
Element 3.4 - Curriculum Alignments : The leader implements systemic processes to insure alignment of curriculum resources with state standards for the courses taught.
Element 3.5 - Quality Assessments : The leader ensures the appropriate use of high quality formative and interim assessments aligned with the adopted standards and curricula.
Element 3.6 - Faculty Effectiveness : The leader monitors the effectiveness of classroom teachers and uses contemporary research and the district's instructional evaluation system criteria and procedures to improve student achievement and faculty proficiency on the FEAPs.
Component 4 - Faculty Development: Effective school leaders recruit, retain, and develop an effective and diverse faculty and staff; focus on evidence, research, and classroom realities faced by teachers; link professional practice with student achievement to demonstrate the cause and effect relationship; facilitate effective professional development; monitor implementation of critical initiatives; and secure and provide timely feedback to teachers so that feedback can be used to increase teacher professional practice.
Element 4.1 - Recruitment and Retention : The leader employs a faculty with the instructional proficiencies needed for the school population served.
Element 4.2 - Feedback Practices : The leader monitors, evaluates proficiency, and secures and provides timely and actionable feedback to faculty on the effectiveness of instruction on priority instructional goals, and the cause and effect relationships between professional practice and student achievement on those goals.
Element 4.3 - High Effect Size Strategies : Instructional personnel receive recurring feedback on their proficiency on high effect size instructional strategies.
Element 4.4 - Instructional Initiatives : District-supported state initiatives focused on student growth are supported by the leader with specific and observable actions, including monitoring of implementation and measurement of progress toward initiative goals and professional learning to improve faculty capacity to implement the initiatives.
Element 4.5 - Facilitating and Leading Professional Learning : The leader manages the organization, operations, and facilities to provide the faculty with quality resources and time for professional learning and promotes, participates in, and engages faculty in effective individual and collaborative learning on priority professional goals throughout the school year.
Element 4.6 - Faculty Development Alignments : The leader implements professional learning processes that enable faculty to deliver culturally relevant and differentiated instruction by generating a focus on student and professional learning in the school that is clearly linked to the system-wide objectives and the school improvement plan; identifying faculty instructional proficiency needs (including standards-based content, research-based pedagogy, data analysis for instructional planning and improvement); aligning faculty development practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals; and using instructional technology as a learning tool for students and faculty.
Element 4.7 - Actual Improvement : The leader improves the percentage of effective and highly effective teachers on the faculty.
Component 5 - Learning Environment: Effective school leaders structure and monitor a school learning environment that improves learning for all of Florida's diverse student population.
Element 5.1 - Student-Centered : The leader maintains a safe, respectful and inclusive student-centered learning environment that is focused on equitable opportunities for learning, and building a foundation for a fulfilling life in a democratic society and global economy by providing recurring monitoring and feedback on the quality of the learning environment and aligning learning environment practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals.
Element 5.2 - Success-Oriented : The leader initiates and supports continuous improvement processes and a multi-tiered system of supports focused on the students' opportunities for success and well-being.
Element 5.3 - Diversity : To align diversity practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals, the leader recognizes and uses diversity as an asset in the development and implementation of procedures and practices that motivate all students and improve student learning, and promotes school and classroom practices that validate and value similarities and differences among students.
Element 5.4 - Achievement Gaps : The leader engages faculty in recognizing and understanding cultural and developmental issues related to student learning by identifying and addressing strategies to minimize and/or eliminate achievement gaps associated with student subgroups within the school.

Domain 3: The focus is on school operations and leadership practices that integrate operations into an effective system of education.

Domain 3 - Operational Leadership 4 Components – 16 Elements This domain contributes 20% of the ELA Score
Component 6 - Decision-Making: Effective school leaders employ and monitor a decision-making process that is based on vision, mission, and improvement priorities using facts and data; manage the decision-making process, but not all decisions, using the process to empower others and distribute leadership when appropriate; establish personal deadlines for themselves and the entire organization; and use a transparent process for making decisions and articulating who makes which decisions.
Element 6.1 - Prioritization Practices : The leader gives priority attention to decisions that impact the quality of student learning and teacher proficiency, gathering and analyzing facts and data, and assessing alignment of decisions with school vision, mission, and improvement priorities.
Element 6.2 - Problem-Solving : The leader uses critical thinking and problem-solving techniques to define problems and identify solutions.
Element 6.3 - Quality Control : The leader maintains recurring processes for evaluating decisions for effectiveness, equity, intended and actual outcome(s); implements follow-up actions revealed as appropriate by feedback and monitoring; and revises decisions or implements actions as needed.
Element 6.4 - Distributive Leadership : The leader empowers others and distributes leadership when appropriate.
Element 6.5 - Technology Integration : The leader employs effective technology integration to enhance decision making and efficiency throughout the school. The leader processes changes and captures opportunities available through social networking tools, accesses and processes information through a variety of online resources, incorporates data-driven decision making with effective technology integration to analyze school results, and develops strategies for coaching staff as they integrate technology into teaching, learning, and assessment processes.
Component 7 - Leadership Development: Effective school leaders actively cultivate, support, and develop other leaders within the organization, modeling trust, competency, and integrity in ways that positively impact and inspire growth in other potential leaders.
Element 7.1 - Leadership Team : The leader identifies and cultivates potential and emerging leaders, promotes teacher-leadership functions focused on instructional proficiency and student learning, and aligns leadership development practices with system objectives, improvement planning, leadership proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals.
Element 7.2 - Delegation : The leader establishes delegated areas of responsibility for subordinate leaders and manages delegation and trust processes that enable such leaders to initiate projects or tasks, plan, implement, monitor, provide quality control, and bring projects and tasks to closure.
Element 7.3 - Succession Planning : The leader plans for and implements succession management in key positions.
Element 7.4 - Relationships : The leader develops sustainable and supportive relationships between school leaders, parents, community, higher education, and business leaders.
Component 8 - School Management: Effective school leaders manage the organization, operations, and facilities in ways that maximize the use of resources to promote a safe, efficient, legal, and effective learning environment; effectively manage and delegate tasks and consistently demonstrate fiscal efficiency; and understand the benefits of going deeper with fewer initiatives as opposed to superficial coverage of everything.
Element 8.1 - Organizational Skills : The leader organizes time, tasks, and projects effectively with clear objectives, coherent plans, and establishes appropriate deadlines for self, faculty, and staff.
Element 8.2 - Strategic Instructional Resourcing : The leader maximizes the impact of school personnel, fiscal and facility resources to provide recurring systemic support for instructional priorities and a supportive learning environment.
Element 8.3 - Collegial Learning Resources : The leader manages schedules, delegates, and allocates resources to provide recurring systemic support for collegial learning processes focused on school improvement and faculty development.
Component 9 - Communication: Effective school leaders use appropriate oral, written, and electronic communication and collaboration skills to accomplish school and system goals by practicing two-way communications, seeking to listen and learn from and building and maintaining relationships with students, faculty, parents, and community; managing a process of regular communications to staff and community keeping all stakeholders engaged in the work of the school; recognizing individuals for good work; and maintaining high visibility at school and in the community.
Element 9.1 - Constructive Conversations : The leader actively listens to and learns from students, staff, parents, and community stakeholders and creates opportunities within the school to engage students, faculty, parents, and community stakeholders in constructive conversations about important issues.

Element 9.2 - Clear Goals and Expectations : The leader communicates goals and expectations clearly and concisely using Florida's common language of instruction and appropriate written and oral skills, communicates student expectations and performance information to students, parents, and community, and ensures faculty receive timely information about student learning requirements, academic standards, and all other local, state, and federal administrative requirements and decisions.
Element 9.3 - Accessibility : The leader maintains high visibility at school and in the community, regularly engages stakeholders in the work of the school, and utilizes appropriate technologies for communication and collaboration.
Element 9.4 - Recognitions : The leader recognizes individuals, collegial work groups, and supporting organizations for effective performance.

Domain 4: The focus is on the leader's professional conduct and leadership practices that represent quality leadership.

Domain 4 - Professional and Ethical Behaviors 1 Component - 4 Elements This domain contributes 20% of the ELA Score
Component 10 - Professional and Ethical Behaviors: Effective school leaders demonstrate personal and professional behaviors consistent with quality practices in education and as a community leader by staying informed on current research in education and demonstrating their understanding of the research, engage in professional development opportunities that improve personal professional practice and align with the needs of the school system, and generate a professional development focus in their school that is clearly linked to the system-wide strategic objectives.
Element 10.1 - Resiliency: The leader demonstrates resiliency in pursuit of student learning and faculty development by staying focused on the school vision and reacting constructively to adversity and barriers to success, acknowledging and learning from errors, constructively managing disagreement and dissent with leadership, and bringing together people and resources with the common belief that the organization can grow stronger when it applies knowledge, skills, and productive attitudes in the face of adversity.
Element 10.2 - Professional Learning: The leader engages in professional learning that improves professional practice in alignment with the needs of the school and system and demonstrates explicit improvement in specific performance areas based on previous evaluations and formative feedback. (PDP score is here as 5% of this domain and 5% of ELA)*
Element 10.3 - Commitment: The leader demonstrates a commitment to the success of all students, identifying barriers and their impact on the well being of the school, families, and local community.
Element 10.4 - Professional Conduct: The leader adheres to the Code of Ethics of the Education Profession in Florida (Rule 6B-1.001, F.A.C.) and to the Principles of Professional Conduct for the Education Profession (Rule 6B-1.006, F.A.C.). Score is either 0 or 3 (unsatisfactory or highly effective)*

*Element scoring on 10.3 and 10.4 are designed to match our teacher evaluation system

Multiple Metrics Evidence System:

Part of our ongoing work to improve leader evaluation in Escambia County School District is the inclusion of transparent stakeholder survey results in leader evaluation. This form of evidence-based leadership is important to the work of improving our district as a whole by focusing the attention of all employees and leaders in particular on the results of stakeholder surveys. In the case of school leaders, we will incorporate two such stakeholder surveys (Parent Satisfaction and Employee Engagement) into the school leader evaluation. We have prepared for including these survey results as evidence for school leader evaluation by collecting baseline data during the 2011-12 school year, training school leaders in the interpretation of these data as well as how to present the data to employees and school communities, and finally, how to use the data to set goals for growth in the area of stakeholder satisfaction. Extensive information about our 2011-12 baseline year of surveys (A-4), surveys (A-3 and A-20), training (A-21), results update (A-47), and results presentations (A-4) is included in Appendix A.

The following evidence matrix and evidence scoring guide outline how evidence is attached to each element, component, and domain. Each element has at least two of the following metrics for scoring: Parent Satisfaction results, Employee Engagement results, Leader Artifacts/Evidence, Supervisor Observation/Evidence. The four possible metrics are grouped into two sections titled “Stakeholder Input” (Parent Satisfaction Results and Employee Engagement Results-surveys are conducted at the beginning, middle, and end of each school year) and “Supervisor Input” (Leader Artifacts/Evidence and Supervisor Observation-gathered via documentation and observation data gathered throughout the year and reviewed at the middle and end of each school year).

Xs on the matrix below indicate which metrics are used to measure each individual element contained within components and domains. The evidence scoring guide and example following the matrix describes how element scores are determined and then combined to achieve component scores and domain scores. Additional information about the Stakeholder Input metrics is contained in Appendix A (including baseline data, training, and actual surveys).

See Appendix B (Crosswalk) for specific state statutes and SBE Rules correlation to the evaluation system elements that include stakeholder input survey results. Appendix B begins on page B-1.

Evidence Matrix Scoring Guide for ELA:

Domain 1=20%

Components (2)=10% each

Elements (8)=2.5% each

Domain 2=40%

Components (3)=13.33% each

Elements (17)=2.4% each

Domain 3=20%

Components (4)=5% each

Elements (16)=1.25% each

Domain 4=20%

Components (1)=20%

Elements (4)=5% each

Note: PDP is worth 5% of total "Leader Practice" score (this intentional imbedding of the PDP was done so that our leader evaluation matches our teacher evaluation)

Scoring Notes:

Note 1: Each element has at least one metric but may have as many as four metrics.

Note 2: Metrics include Stakeholder Input (Employee Engagement Results and Parent Satisfaction Results) and Leader/Supervisor Input (Artifacts/Evidence and Supervisor Observation of Practice). See pg. 15 for Multiple Metrics Evidence System and Matrix.

Note 3: Since each domain is worth either 20% or 40% of the whole, contains differing numbers of components that each contain differing numbers of elements, and each element is measured by between one and four metrics, actual values of elements differ from element to element, component to component, and domain to domain.

Note 4: All actual numeric calculations will be completed automatically within the digital electronic evaluation system housed within truenorthlogic.

Example:

Domain 3, Component 6, Element 6.1:

This element is measured by 2 metrics (one stakeholder input metric, specifically employee engagement and one supervisor input metric, specifically supervisor observation).

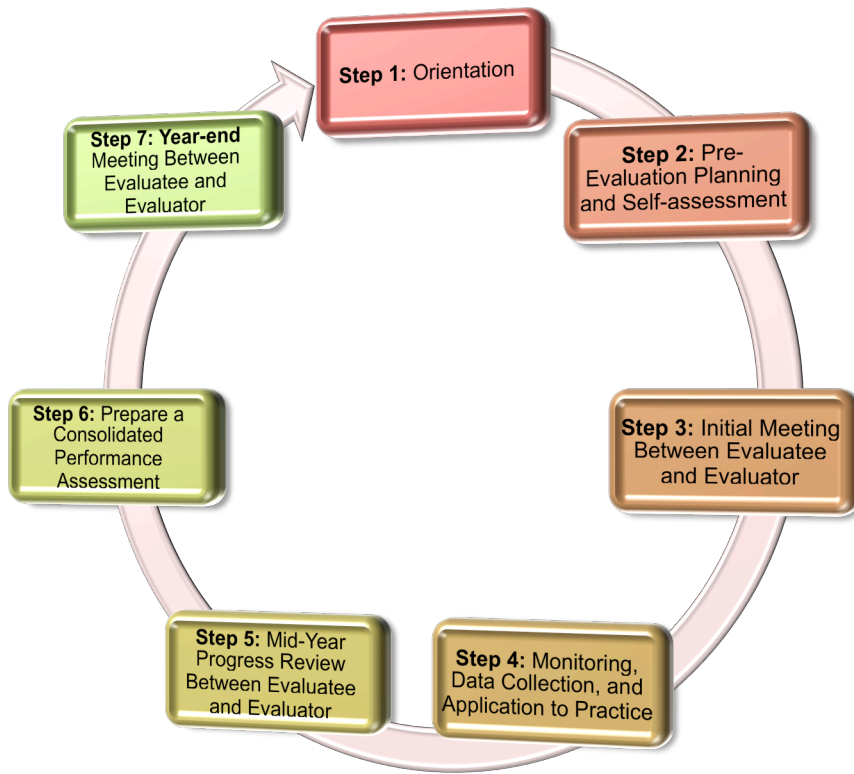

Domain 3=20% of the whole, Component 6=5% of the whole, Element 6.1=1.25% of the whole, therefore each of the two metrics used for measuring this element=.625%.

Supervisor enters scores for each metric of each element (worth .625% each) into the online system and the digital system combines the two metric scores using a built-in calculator for a total of 1.25% per element. To continue this example, after the supervisor enters all scores for all elements, the system calculates component percentages, domain percentages, and finally an overall score.

The Escambia Leader Assessment

ECSD will implement the Escambia Leader Assessment (ELA) processes listed below to provide:

- Guides to self-reflection on what's important to success as a school leader (self-assessment will be the first step in the PDP/ELA process)
- Criteria for making judgments about proficiency that are consistent among raters (consistent rubric for all for levels of rubric)
- Specific and actionable feedback from colleagues, stakeholders, and supervisors focused on improving proficiency
- Summative evaluations of proficiency and determination of performance levels

The seven steps of the ELA are described below:

Step 1: Orientation: The orientation step can occur at the start of a new work year, at the start of a new school year, or at the start of assignment (or new assignment) as a principal. The depth and detail of orientation may vary based on prior training and whether changes in evaluation model have occurred, but an annual orientation or re-fresher orientation should occur. The orientation step should include:

- District provided orientation and training on the Florida Principal Leadership Standards (FPLS), Student Success Act, applicable State Board of Education rules, Race To The Top (RTTT) requirements, and district specific expectations that are subject to the evaluation system. Training for evaluators (supervisors) and school administrators is scheduled for June and July 2012 (Cathy Lassiter, trainer).
- All leaders and evaluators should have access to the content and processes that are subject to the evaluation system. All leaders and evaluators should have access to the same information and expectations. This may be provided by the leader's review of district evaluation documents, online modules, mentor sessions, or face-to-face training where awareness of district processes and expectations are identified.
- At the orientation step, each school leader is expected to engage in personal reflection on the connection between his/her practice and the FPLS and the Elements in the district evaluation system. This is a "what do I know and what do I need to know" self-check aligned with the FPLS and the district evaluation system elements. ELA self-assessment on all domains, components, and elements will be available to all school leaders for completion via the online digital system.

Step 2: Pre-evaluation Planning: After orientation processes, the leader and evaluator prepare for a formal conference to address evaluation processes and expectations. Two things occur:

- Leader's self-assessment analysis leads to specific identification of improvement priorities which will be student achievement priorities and leadership practice priorities. The leader gathers any data or evidence that supports an issue as an improvement priority. This may include District Strategic Plan, School Improvement Plan (SIP), student achievement data, prior stakeholder data including parent satisfaction and employee engagement survey results, and evidence of systemic processes that need work. See Appendix A for survey information.
- The evaluator articulates a perspective on strengths and growth needs for the leader and for student achievement issues at the school.

Step 3: Initial Meeting between evaluatee and evaluator: A meeting on "expectations" held between leader and supervisor to address the following:

- Evaluation processes are reviewed and questions answered.
- Perceptions (of both) from Pre-evaluation Planning are shared.
- Domain, Components, Elements from evaluation system that will be focus issues are identified and discussed.
- Student growth measures that are of concern are discussed.
- Relationship of evaluation elements to the SIP, Strategic Plan, district initiatives, and stakeholder survey results are discussed.
- Such a meeting is typically face-to-face but may also be via digital system or phone. (Meeting issues can be clarified via texts and emails as appropriate.)

- Proposed targets for Plan of Deliberate Practice are discussed and determined, or a timeframe for selection of Deliberate Practice targets are set. While a separate meeting or exchange of information may be implemented to complete the Deliberate Practice targets, they should be discussed at the Step 3 Conference given their importance to the leader's growth and the summative evaluation.
- If school leader's prior evaluation (previous system in use 11-12) was at the unsatisfactory level, a "Strategies for Improvement" Plan will be developed by the supervisor and school leader and must include at least two specific strategies to improve performance in the unsatisfactory elements. This step is designed to match our teacher evaluation system and the plan is included as an optional step (as needed) within our online system.

Step 4: Monitoring, Data Collection, and Application to Practice: Evidence is gathered that provides insights on the leader's proficiency on the issues in the evaluation system by those with input into the leader's evaluation.

- The leader shares with supervisor evidence on practice on which the leader seeks feedback or wants the evaluator to be informed.
- The evaluator accumulates data and evidence on leader's actions or impact of leader's actions during the routine conduct of work. Such data and evidence will come from site visits, formal or informal observations, evidence/artifacts provided by the leader and the supervisor, and stakeholder survey results. The accumulated information is analyzed in the context of the evaluation system elements.
- As evidence and observations are obtained that generate specific and actionable feedback, it is provided to the leader in a timely manner. Feedback may be provided face-to-face, via ELA forms, via email or telephone, or via memoranda.
- Collegial groups, mentors, communities of practice (CoPs), professional learning communities (PLCs), and lesson study groups in which the leader participates may provide specific and actionable feedback for proficiency improvement.
- These monitoring actions occur before and continue after the mid-year Progress Check (step 5).

Step 5: Mid-year Progress Review between evaluatee and evaluator: At a mid-year point, a progress review is conducted.

- Actions and impacts of actions taken on priorities identified in Step 3 Initial Meeting are reviewed. Stakeholder survey results are reviewed and compared to district results.
- Any elements which the evaluator has identified for a specific status update, including elements on "Strategies for Improvement" plan (if applicable) are reviewed. (The leader is given notice of these elements prior to the Progress Check, as the feedback expected is more specific than that for the general element overview.) Strategies for Improvement Plan will be in the digital system.
- The leader is prepared to provide a general overview of actions/processes that apply to all of the Domains and Components and may include any of the Elements in the district system. Any Element that the evaluator or the leader wishes to address should be included.
- Strengths and progress are recognized (including top three stakeholder scores).
- Priority growth needs are reviewed (including bottom three stakeholder scores).

- Where there is no evidence related to a Component or an Element and no interim judgment of proficiency can be provided, a plan of action must be made:
 - If the evaluator decides that the absence of evidence indicates unsatisfactory proficiency because actions or impacts of action should be evident if leader was proficient, the leader is provided notice that the Component(s) and/or Element(s) will be addressed with “Strategies for Improvement” plan to be implemented and reviewed at a follow-up meeting.
 - The absence of evidence is explained by lack of opportunity for the evaluator to note anything relevant, and leader is asked to provide follow-up data on the Component or Element prior to the year-end conference (or sooner).
 - The lack of evidence on one Element is balanced by substantial evidence on other Elements in the same Component. No follow-up is required until evidence supporting a Needs Improvement (NI) or Unsatisfactory (U) rating emerges.
- Any actions or inactions which might result in an unsatisfactory rating on a domain or Component if not improved are communicated, “Strategies for Improvement” plan is written, and follow-up date set.
- Any Elements for which there is insufficient evidence to rate proficiency at this stage, but which will be a priority for feedback in remainder of the year, are noted.
- ELA evidence recorded in the digital online system is finalized and shared to provide feedback on all Elements for which there is sufficient evidence to rate proficiency. Evidence and artifacts can be uploaded into the digital system as appropriate to reflect what is communicated in the Progress Check.

Step 6: Prepare a consolidated performance assessment: The summative evaluation form is prepared by the evaluator and a performance rating assigned.

- Include relevant and appropriate evidence by any party entitled to provide input into the leader’s evaluation (supervisor, leader, stakeholder).
- Review evidence on leader’s proficiency on Elements.
- Use accumulated evidence and rating on Elements to rate each Component.
- Consolidate the ratings on Components into Domain ratings.
- Consolidate Domain ratings, using ELA weights, to calculate a ELA score.

Step 7: Year-end Meeting between evaluatee and evaluator: The year-end meeting addresses the ELA score, the Deliberate Practice Score and Student Growth Measures.

- The ELA evidence (provided by leader and supervisor) is reviewed, including all final stakeholder survey results, artifacts, E3 process results, etc.
- The leader’s growth on the Plan of Deliberate Practice targets is reviewed and a Deliberate Practice Score assigned (Element 10.2).
- Growth is reviewed, strategies for improvement results are reviewed (if applicable), and scores are explained.
- The ELA Score (with imbedded Deliberate Practice Score) generates a Leadership Practice Score. See Appendix C for rating scales (C-2)

- If the Student Growth Measurement (SGM) score is known, inform the leader how the Leadership Practice Score and SGM Score combine to a summative performance level of Highly Effective, Effective, Needs Improvement, or Unsatisfactory.
- If SGM score is not known, inform leader of possible performance levels based on known Leadership Practice Score and various SGM outcomes.
- If recognitions or employment consequences are possible based on performance level, inform leader of district process moving forward.
- Review priority growth issues that should be considered for next year's Pre-evaluation planning, self-assessment, and initial meeting
- If a school leader's final rating is unsatisfactory for a second year in a row, the leader will be removed from the current school leadership assignment.
- See Appendix C for SGM rating scales (C-6), Stability Groups (C-3), and Grade Breakdown (C-4)

Scoring Guide for ELA (state model with modifications)

Directions for use of this Guide

ECSD (Escambia County School District) HAS INCLUDED DISTRICT DECISIONS ON CUT SCORES FOR SCHOOL LEADERS IN SECTION FOUR OF THE SCORING GUIDE. APPROPRIATE CHARTS AND MATRIXES ARE INCLUDED IN THE SCORING GUIDE.

1. ECSD has modified the scoring process described in this guide or use a district developed scoring process. Modifications are explained and examples are given within this scoring guide.
2. Some aspects of the ELA (including Plan of Deliberate Practice score) metrics have included modifications of the state model. All changes are described in the scoring guide and pertinent charts and examples are included. The scoring process has been aligned with the modifications.

3. There is no phase-in option for ELA. All Domains, Components, and Elements of ELA (including Plan of Deliberate Practice) will apply to all school leaders beginning in the 2012-13 school year.

Scoring Guide for ELA (state model with modifications)

An evaluation system that is aligned with the purpose of Section 1012.34, F.S. and applicable State Board rules (e.g., 6A-5.065, 6A-5.080) has two functions:

- Providing quality feedback during a work year that focuses improvement effort on essential proficiencies.
- Generating an annual summative performance level based on the proficiency exhibited during the work year.

For Escambia County School Leaders being evaluated using the ELA, the modified Florida state model for principal evaluation, the summative annual performance level is based on two factors:

- Student Growth Measures Score (SGM): The performance of students under the leader’s supervision represents 50% of the annual performance level. The specific growth measures used and “cut points” applied must conform to Florida Statutes and State Board rules.
- Leadership Practice Score: An assessment of the leader’s proficiency on the Florida Principal Leadership Standards (FPLS). This is based on two metrics:
 - The Escambia Leader Assessment (ELA): A system for feedback and growth based on the leader’s work and impact of that work on others. The ELA (except element 10.2) contributes 95% of the Leadership Practice Score.
 - Plan of Deliberate Practice (PDP): Deep learning and growth on a few very specific aspects of educational leadership. The PDP Score contributes 5% of the Leadership Practice Score and is imbedded within the Leadership Practice rubric (Element 10.2). This deliberate change was made so the leader evaluation PDP matches the teacher evaluation PDP in scoring and in location within the evaluation model.

Summary of Scoring Processes

1. Score Elements (one to four metrics)	Collected on short form rubrics that are based on “long form” rubrics imbedded in digital electronic system within truethologic (format matches teacher evaluation)
2. Score Components	Compilation of element scores
3. Score Domains	Compilation of component scores
4. Score ELA	Compilation of domain scores
5. Plan of Deliberate Practice Metric	5% of ELA score (imbedded-element 10.2)
6. Calculate Leadership Practice Score	Compilation of domain scores (including PDP)
7. Calculate Student Growth Measure Score	Use district cut points for SGM
8. Assign Proficiency Level rating label	Combine Leadership and SGM scores (see proficiency level cut score rubrics for both Leadership Practice and SGM scores)

Scoring Guide (Total =100% possible for ELA Leader Practice Score):

Domain 1=20%

Components (2)=10% each

Elements (8)=2.5% each

Domain 2=40%

Components (3)=13.33% each

Elements (17)=2.4% each

Domain 3=20%

Components (4)=5% each
Elements (16)=1.25% each

Domain 4=20%

Components (1)=20%
Elements (4)=5% each

Note: PDP is worth 5% of total “Leader Practice” score (matches teacher evaluation)

Scoring Notes:

Note 1: Each element has at least one metric but may have as many as four metrics.

Note 2: Metrics include Stakeholder Input (Employee Engagement Results and Parent Satisfaction Results) and Leader/Supervisor Input (Artifacts/Evidence and Supervisor Observation of Practice).

Note 3: Since each domain is worth either 20% or 40% of the whole, contains differing numbers of components that each contain differing numbers of elements, and each element is measured by between one and four metrics, actual values of elements differ from element to element, component to component, and domain to domain. All actual calculations will be completed within the electronic evaluation system housed within truethologic.

Example:

Domain 3, Component 6, Element 6.1:

This element is measured by 2 metrics (one stakeholder input metric, specifically employee engagement and one supervisor input metric, specifically supervisor observation).

Domain 3=20% of the whole, Component 6=5%, Element 6.1=1.25%, therefore each of the two metrics used for measuring this element=.625%.

Section One: How to Score the ELA

About the ELA Scoring Process

This scoring model has these features:

- The performance labels used in Section 1012.34, F.S. for summative performance levels are also used in the ELA to summarize feedback on Domains, Components, and Elements:
 - Highly Effective (HE)
 - Effective (E)
 - Needs Improvement (NI)
 - Unsatisfactory (U)
- Direct Weighting: The ELA score is based on ratings for each element of four domains, but the system specifically gives added weight to Domain 2: Instructional Leadership: The weights are:
 - Domain 1: Student Achievement: 20%
 - Domain 2: Instructional Leadership: 40%
 - Domain 3: Organizational Leadership: 20%

- Domain 4: Professional and Ethical Behavior: 20%
- Embedded Weighting: The use of Domain scores to generate an ELA score results in embedded weighting as the Domains have different numbers of Elements. For example: Domain 1 has eight Elements, Domain 3 has 16 Elements and Domain 4 has four Elements, but each Domain contributes 20% to the FLSA score. The result of this is:
 - Domain 2 Elements have the most impact on the ELA results due to direct weighing. There are 17 Elements, but the Domain is weighted at 40%, thus magnifying the impact of that domain on the final rating.
 - Domain 4 has the next highest level of impact due to embedded weighting. There are only four Elements in this Domain, but the Domain contributes 20% of the ELA score.
 - Domain 1 has more impact than Domain 3 since Domain 1 has eight Elements and Domain 3 has 16 Elements, but each Domain contributes 20% of the ELA score.
 - Elements within components may contain up to four metrics per element. While this does not change the overall weight of each element, it is important to note that the digital system will automatically calculate the multiple metrics for each element so the total weight of each element remains the same.
- Proficiency on Elements leads to an ELA Score.
 - Ratings on Elements are combined to generate a Component score.
 - Ratings on Components are combined to generate a Domain score.
 - Ratings on Domains are combined to generate an ELA Score (PDP score is imbedded in Element 10.2).
- Throughout the following sections on scoring, you will note the use of several different charts-each having different ranges for the four levels. Some of these are most important and lead to the overall scoring of the final annual evaluation score for school leaders.
 - ELA Proficiency Rating Chart with Additional Requirements (pg. 31) outlines the ranges for the four levels (HE, E, NI, U) and the additional requirements of the ELA to be used after element scores have been entered for all 45 elements
 - ELA Score Point Ranges Chart (pg. 33) outlines the percentage ranges for each of the four levels (HE, E, NI, U) to be used after element scores have been entered for all 45 elements
 - SGM Student Growth Measure Chart (pg. 36) outlines the percentage ranges for each of the four levels (HE, E, NI, U) to be used to determine the SGM 50% of the Annual Performance Rating
 - Final Evaluation Performance Rating Chart (pg. 36) outlines the ranges and proficiency levels for FINAL evaluation ratings (with both ELA and SGM COMBINED)

How to determine an ELA Score:

Generating a score for the ELA has four steps:

Step One: Rate each Element.

Start with judgments on the Elements. Elements in each Component are rated as HE (3 points), E (2 points), NI (1 point), or U (0 points) based on accumulated evidence (see evidence matrix).

- The ELA supports this Element proficiency rating process with rubrics for distinguishing between the levels (HE, E, NI, or U) that are specific to the Element.
- To guide the rating decision, illustrative examples of leadership actions and illustrative examples of impacts of leadership actions are provided (included in “long forms”, and training on stakeholder input and supervisor input).

- The rubrics for Elements and the illustrative examples are found in the “long forms” – the included in the ELA electronic digital system as well as posted on www.floridaschoolleaders.org (in the Learning Library, Resources Menu: Evaluation Resources – School Leaders). Rubrics for elements as well descriptions and impact statements (long form elements) will open for evaluators within our truenorthlogic digital electronic evaluation tool.
- Ratings will be recorded by supervisors on the short form within the ELA digital electronic system (all ELA forms will be found on the digital electronic system and supporting resources are found on www.floridaschoolleaders.org). The short form will open for evaluators within our truenorthlogic system. The short form will also serve as the “official final assessment document.”

Rating Labels: What do they mean?

The principal should complete a self-assessment by scoring each of the Elements. The evaluator also will score each of the Elements. In an end-of the year conference, their respective ratings are shared and discussed. The evaluator then determines a final rating for each Element and, using the procedures in this scoring guide, calculates an ELA score.

Element ratings:

When assigning ratings to Elements in the ELA, the evaluator should begin by reviewing the Element rubrics. These are “word-picture” descriptions of leadership behaviors in each of the four levels of leadership behavior—“Highly Effective”, “Effective”, “Needs Improvement”, and “Unsatisfactory.” The evaluator finds the level that best describes performance related to the Element. Ratings by evaluators must be based on preponderance of evidence. Evidence is gathered from up to four metrics-stakeholder input (employee engagement results and parent satisfaction results) and supervisor input (artifacts/evidence provided by the leader and the supervisor and observation by the leader).

Points are assigned within the digital system for each element according to this rubric:

ELEMENT RATING	POINTS ASSIGNED
Highly Effective	3 points
Effective	2 points
Needs Improvement	1 point
Unsatisfactory	0 points

The rating rubrics (see short and long forms for detailed descriptions) provide criteria (digital rubrics with criteria available in online system) that distinguish among the proficiency levels on the Element. The illustrative examples of Leadership Evidence and Impact Evidence for each Element provide direction on the range of evidence to consider. The rating for each Element is the lowest rating for which the “word-picture” descriptors are appropriate and representative descriptions of what was observed about the leader’s performance.

The ratings on the Elements are combined to achieve a percentage rating on each Component. The ratings on the Components are combined to achieve a percentage rating on each Domain. Domain ratings are combined to achieve a percentage rating for the overall ELA Leader Practice score.

The ELA rubrics are designed to give principals a formative as well as a summative assessment of where they stand in all leadership performance areas and detailed guidance on how to improve. While they are not checklists for school visits by the principal's supervisor, they do reflect the key behaviors about which supervisors and principals should be conversing frequently throughout the year. Moreover, these behavioral leadership descriptions will form the basis for principal and supervisor coaching and mentoring sessions.

Step Two: Rate each Component:

Ratings on the Elements in a Component are combined to achieve a percentage score for each Component. Although proficiency ratings for each Component will not be assigned, individual Component ratings will affect the Domain scores and overall ELA score according to the ELA scoring rubric. The intent is for the ELA scoring rubric to match the E3 (teacher evaluation) rubric in scope and weighting.

Step Three: Rate Each Domain:

Ratings on the Components are combined to achieve a percentage score for each Domain. Although proficiency ratings for each Domain will not be assigned, individual Domain ratings will affect the overall ELA score according to the ELA scoring rubric. The intent is for the ELA scoring rubric to match the E3 (teacher evaluation) rubric in scope and weighting.

Distinguishing between proficiency levels:

The "Effective" level describes leadership performance that has local impact (i.e., within the school) and meets organizational needs. It is adequate, necessary, and clearly makes a significant contribution to the school. The majority of the leadership workforce will be in the effective area once they have a clear understanding of what the FPLS require and have made the adjustments and growth necessary to upgrade performance. The previous rating system of "satisfactory" and "unsatisfactory" does not provide any guidance as to where those who repeat past performance levels will fall in the shift to research and standards-based assessments. Both school leaders and evaluators should reflect on performance based on the new FPLS and the rubrics of the ELA.

The "Highly Effective" level is reserved for truly outstanding leadership as described by very demanding criteria. Performance at this level is dramatically superior to “Effective” in its impact on students, staff members, parents, and the school district. Highly effective leadership results from recurring engagement with “deliberate practice.” In brief, the “Highly Effective” leader helps every other element within the organization become as good as they are. In normal distributions, some leaders will be rated highly effective on some Elements, but very few leaders will be rated highly effective as a summative performance level.

The “Needs Improvement” level describes principals who understand what is required for success, are willing to work toward that goal, and, with coaching and support, can become proficient. Needs improvement rating will occur where expectations have been raised and standards made more focused and specific. Professional behavior and focused professional learning will guide school leaders toward increasingly effective performance.

Performance at the “Unsatisfactory” level describe leaders who do not understand what is required for proficiency or who have demonstrated through their actions and/or inactions that they choose not to become proficient on the strategies, knowledge bases, and skills sets needed for student learning to improve and faculties to develop.

Step 4: Calculate the Final ELA Score/Rating.

After ratings (proficiency levels) and scores (points) have been determined for all 45 elements (including element 10.2 which is the imbedded PDP-Plan of Deliberate Practice which is worth 5% of the total ELA score), the digital online system will calculate the percentage ratings for components (combined elements) and domains (combined components) to determine an overall ELA proficiency rating. Additional criteria for each final ELA proficiency level have also been assigned. The additional criteria are designed to allow for our leader evaluation system to match our teacher evaluation system. The table below outlines each final ELA proficiency rating and all criteria associated with that rating.

ELA Overall Proficiency Scoring Scale WITH ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

Proficiency Rating	If any requirements are not met, the proficiency rating moves to the level in which all requirements are met.
Highly Effective if:	At least 28 of 45 elements in rubric rated HE 0 Needs Improvement elements 0 Unsatisfactory elements At least 9 elements of Domain 2 rated HE At least 9 elements of Domain 3 rated HE
Effective if:	At least 41 of 45 elements in ELA rated HE or E 0 Unsatisfactory elements No more than 1 element in Domain 2 rated Needs Improvement No more than 1 element in Domain 3 rated Needs Improvement
Needs Improvement if:	At least 37 of 45 elements in ELA rated HE or E 0 Unsatisfactory

	No more than 2 elements in Domain 2 rated Needs Improvement No more than 2 elements in Domain 3 rated Needs Improvement
Unsatisfactory if:	Less than 36 elements in ELA rated HE or E 1 or more Unsatisfactory elements 3 or more elements in Domain 2 rated Needs Improvement 3 or more elements in Domain 3 rated Needs Improvement

Example of Effective Leader ELA Score

It is important to remember the following rules of the rubric:

- 1) Points are awarded for each element (HE=3, E=2, NI=1, U=0)
- 2) Each element has a total possible score of 3 even if that component contains multiple metrics
- 3) Each element is scored individually and those element scores are combined to form a component score and subsequently a domain score, BUT each element carries its own weight into the final score
- 4) According to the rubric, all element raw scores in Domain 2 are multiplied by 2 since they carry double weight (HE=6, E=4, NI=2, U=0) while all scores in the remaining Domains carry single weight
- 5) The possible range of raw scores for the entire ELA is 0-186, so a raw score of 186 is equal to 100%.
- 6) In the following example, it is assumed that each individual element has been rated a 2 (Effective) level

Domain	Points	Weight	Weighted Raw Score
Domain 1: Student Achievement	8 elements x 2 points each=raw score of 16	20%=1 (single weight)	16
Domain 2: Instructional Leadership	17 elements x 2 points each=raw score of 34	40%=2 (double weight)	68 (2 X 34)
Domain 3: Organizational Leadership	16 elements x 2 points each=raw score of 32	20%=1 (single weight)	32
Domain 4: Professional and Ethical Behavior*	4 elements	20%=1 (single weight)	8

	x 2 points each=raw score of 8)	weight)
Total Points This Example (45 elements x 2 points each)		67%	124
Total Points Possible (45 elements x 3 points each)		100%	186

*Includes score for Plan of Deliberate Practice (Element 10.2 imbedded in Domain 4)

ELA Leadership Practice Score Ranges:

88-100%=HE, 64-87.9%=E, 59-63.9%=NI, 0-58.9%=U

Therefore, 67% overall=E (Effective) for this example

NOTE: All calculations will occur automatically within the digital system

The Domain scores are added up and an ELA score determined. The ELA Score is converted to an ELA rating of HE, E, NI, or U based on this scale:

ELA SCORE POINT RANGES	ELA Proficiency Rating
88-100% of the possible 186 points	Highly Effective
64-87.9% of the possible 186 points	Effective
59-63.9% of the possible 186 points	Needs Improvement
0-58.9% of the possible 186 points	Unsatisfactory

Section Two: How to Score Deliberate Practice

NOTES:

1) The deliberate practice score comes from the PDP (Plan of Deliberate Practice Score) worth 5% of the total ELA score. This score is imbedded in the rubric as Element 10.2. The remaining ELA elements make up the other 95% of the total ELA score. Element scores for the PDP are scored the same as other elements (HE=3, E=2, NI=1, U=0)

2) For target goals involving the stakeholder survey results (parent satisfaction and employee satisfaction), the five scoring levels are converted to the state's four levels via this rubric:

4.75-5.0	Level 5 (HE)
4.25-4.74	Level 4 (HE)
2.75-4.24	Level 3 (E)
2.25-2.74	Level 2 (NI)
Below 2.25	Level 1 (U)

3) Detailed information about the surveys, level definitions, rubrics, and conversion calculations is located in Appendix A

4) At least two target goals are required for the PDP (Element 10.2). Since this element is worth 5% of the total, each target goal rating is worth 2.5% or half of the 10.2 element score. If school leaders choose to add optional additional target goals, the two required goals' values are reduced to 2% each and any additional goal or goals' value is set at 1% so that the total value of PDP (Element 10.2) remains at 5% of the ELA score.

Section Three How to Calculate a Leadership Practice Score

The Domain scores are added up and an ELA score determined. The ELA Score is converted to an ELA rating of HE, E, NI, or U based on this scale:

ELA SCORE	ELA Proficiency Rating
88-100% of the possible 186 points	Highly Effective
64-87.9% of the possible 186 points	Effective
59-63.9% of the possible 186 points	Needs Improvement
0-58.9% of the possible 186 points	Unsatisfactory

Remember that the Deliberate Practice Score is imbedded and worth 5% of the total 100%

Section Four How to Calculate an Annual Performance Level (Summative= ELA Score (50%) and SGM Score (50%))

Student Growth Measure (SGM) Rating (worth ½ of Annual Evaluation)

This rating is assessed through the value-added model required by the state. SGM as measured by this model counts 50% of a leader's overall annual evaluation. The rating will be a percent score assigned to a leader that depicts the percent of students whose FCAT scores met or exceeded expectations (made learning gains according to the state VAM model). The EOC exams, industry certifications pass rate, FAA, and other non-FCAT course assessments will also be included in SGM ratings when they become available. School leader's student growth measures will be based on a leader's stability group (students who meet eligibility requirements for each school). This stability group definition is designed to match our teacher evaluation and a leader's group includes all students included in the stability groups of all teachers under a leader's supervision.

While this portion of the evaluation is weighted 50%, it is determined on a percent scale just as the Leader Practice (ELA) portion is determined. In the chart below, leaders are given a rating level based on the percentage of students in their stability groups who make learning gains based on the VAM

SGM (Student Growth Measure) Rating:	Range (%)
Highly Effective	72 - 100
Effective	40 - 71.9
Needs Improvement	25 - 39.9
Unsatisfactory	0 - 24.9
Note: This chart matches our teacher evaluation and is yet unused. It may change based on revisions made to the evaluation system after 2012 scores arrive and teacher evaluations are calculated.

Step 1: Enter leader's SGM Score: _____ (SGM of leader's stability group VAM learning gains divided by 2) Example: Score of 80%/2=40

Step 2: Enter Leadership Practice Score: _____ (ELA Leader Practice Overall Percentage Score divided by 2) Example: Score of 88%/2=44

Step 3: Add SGM score and Leadership Practice Score: _____ Example: SGM 40 + ELA 44 = 84

Final Evaluation Performance Score=84. Select appropriate rating below on Final Evaluation Score Range/Performance Level Chart

Final Evaluation Score ranges	Performance Level Rating
80-100	Highly Effective
52-79.9	Effective
42-51.9	Needs Improvement
0-41.9	Unsatisfactory

Step 4: Enter rating on Evaluation form: _____ Example: Effective

Escambia Leader Assessment Data Collection and Feedback Protocol Forms for Domains 1, 2, 3 and 4

These forms provide guidance to school leaders and evaluators on what is expected regarding each Element.

The forms provide:

- The text of all Components and ELA Elements
- Rubrics to distinguish among proficiency levels
 - A generic rubric that applies to each Element and
 - An Element specific rubric that applies to the individual Element
- Narratives to assist in understanding the focus and priorities embedded in the ELA
- Illustrative examples of Leadership Actions and Impacts on Others of Leadership Action that assist in understanding how the issue(s) in an Element are observed “on the job”.
- Reflection questions to guide personal growth

NOTE: All forms will be available to leaders and supervisors online in the digital electronic evaluation system housed in the truenorthlogic system. Reflection questions will be answered online by leaders and reviewed by evaluators prior to the three annual meetings (beginning, middle, and end of the year) held between each leader and his/her evaluator. Narratives, rubrics, and descriptions of the long forms below for each Domain, Component, and Element will be available and can be opened for viewing and evaluating by hovering over a link within the electronic short form within the digital system. Actual element scores will be entered on the short form by evaluators after viewing and evaluating using the long form sections for each element. After entering element scores, the remaining calculations for components and domains will be completed automatically by the digital system. Both leaders and evaluators will have access to the system at all times. Leaders and evaluators can communicate for reflection and professional conversation throughout the year in the online system. Leaders can also respond to reflection questions three times a year in the online system. The supervisors view reflections in preparation for professional conversations with leaders and prior to entering scores for elements associated with reflections so that reflection answers become part of the leader's evidence of performance.

Domain 1 - Student Achievement

Narrative: Student achievement results in the student growth measures (SGM) segment of evaluation represent student results on specific statewide or district assessments or end-of-course exams. The leadership practice segment of the evaluation, through the Components and Elements in this domain, focuses on leadership behaviors that influence the desired student results.

Narrative: This Component focuses on the leader's knowledge and actions regarding academic standards, use of performance data, planning and goal setting related to targeted student results, and capacities to understand what results are being obtained. This Component is aligned with Florida Principal Leadership Standard #1.

Element 1.1 - Academic Standards: The leader demonstrates understanding of student requirements and academic standards (Common Core Standards and Next Generation Sunshine State Standards).

Narrative: Standards-based instruction is an essential element in the state's plan of action for preparing Florida's students for success in a 21st century global economy. This Element is focused on the leader's understanding of what students are to know and be able to do. School leaders need to know the academic standards teachers are to teach and students are to master.

Note: Every credit course has specific academic standards assigned to it. Common Core Standards and Next Generation Sunshine State Standards (NGSSS) assigned to each course are found at www.floridastandards.org.

Rating Rubric

Highly Effective: Leader's actions or impact of leader's actions relevant to this Element exceed effective levels and constitute models of proficiency for other leaders.	Effective: Leader's actions or impact of leader's actions relevant to this Element are sufficient and appropriate reflections of quality work with only normal variations.	Needs Improvement: Leader's actions or impact of leader's actions relevant to this Element are evident but are inconsistent or of insufficient scope or proficiency.	Unsatisfactory: Leader's actions or impact of leader's actions relevant to this Element are minimal or are not occurring, or are having an adverse impact.
Every faculty meeting and staff development forum is focused on student achievement on the Common Core Standards and NGSSS, including periodic reviews of student work. The leader can articulate which Common Core Standards are designated for implementation in multiple courses.	The link between standards and student performance is in evidence from the alignment in lesson plans of learning goals, activities and assignments to course standards. The leader is able to recognize whether or not learning goals and student activities are related to standards in the course descriptions.	Common Core Standards and NGSSS are accessible to faculty and students. Required training on standards-based instruction has been conducted, but the link between standards and student performance is not readily evident to many faculty or students. Assignments and activities in most, but not all courses relate to the standards in the course descriptions.	Classroom learning goals and curriculum are not monitored for alignment to standards or are considered a matter of individual discretion regardless of course description requirements. The leader is hesitant to intrude or is indifferent to decisions in the classroom that are at variance from the requirements of academic standards in the course descriptions. Training for the faculty on standards-based instruction does not occur and the leader does not demonstrate knowledge of how to access standards.

Element 1.2 – Performance Data: The leader demonstrates the use of student and adult performance data to make instructional leadership decisions.

Narrative: This Element addresses the leader’s proficiency in use of student and adult performance data to make instructional leadership decisions. What does test data and other sources of student performance data related to targeted academic goals say about what is needed? What does data about teacher proficiency or professional learning needs indicate needs to be done? The focus is what the leader does with data about student and adult performance to make instructional decisions that impact student achievement.

Reflection Questions for Element 1.2

Highly Effective	Effective	Needs Improvement	Unsatisfactory
How do you aggregate data about teacher proficiencies on instructional practices to stimulate dialogue about what changes in instruction are needed in order to improve student performance?	How do you verify that all faculty have sufficient grasp of the significance of student performance data to formulate rational improvement plans?	By what methods do you enable faculty to participate in useful discussions about the relationship between student performance data and the instructional actions under the teachers' control?	How much of the discussions with district staff about student performance data are confusing to you and how do you correct that?

Reflection Questions for Element 1.3

Highly Effective	Effective	Needs Improvement	Unsatisfactory
What methods of sharing successful planning processes with other school leaders are most likely to generate district-wide improvements?	How will you monitor progress toward the goals so that adjustments needed are evident in time to make "course corrections?"	How do you engage more faculty in the planning process so that there is a uniform faculty understanding of the goals set?	How are other school leaders implementing planning and goal setting?

Element 1.4 - Student Achievement Results: The leader demonstrates evidence of student improvement through student achievement results.

Narrative: Engagement with the standards, using data, making plans and setting goals are important. This Element shifts focus to the leader's use of evidence of actual improvement to build support for continued effort and further improvement.

Reflection Questions for Element 1.4

Highly Effective	Effective	Needs Improvement	Unsatisfactory
How do you share with other school leaders how to use student improvement results to raise expectations and improve future results?	How do you engage students in sharing examples of their growth with other students?	How do you engage faculty in routinely sharing examples of student improvement?	What processes should you employ to gather data on student improvements?

Component 2. Student Learning as a Priority: Effective school leaders demonstrate that student learning is their top priority through effective leadership actions that build and support a learning organization focused on student success.

Narrative: This Component is aligned with Florida Principal Leadership Standard #2. A learning organization has essential elements regarding the behavior of people in the organization. When all elements are present and interacting, productive systemic change is possible. This Component is focused on the degree to which learning organization elements exist in the school and reflect the following priorities on student learning:

- Supports for personal mastery of each person’s job focus on job aspects related to student learning
- Team learning among faculty is focused on student learning
- Processes for exploring and challenging mental models that hamper understanding and progress on student learning are in use
- A shared vision has student learning as a priority
- Systems thinking is employed to align various aspects of school life in ways that promote learning

Element 2.1 – Learning Organization: The leader enables faculty and staff to work as a system focused on student learning and engages faculty and staff in efforts to close learning performance gaps among student subgroups within the school.

Narrative: Are the elements of a learning organization present among the adults in the school? Are the learning organization elements focused on student learning? Is the system in operation at the school engaging faculty in improving results for under-achieving subgroups? This Element addresses the systemic processes that make gap reduction possible. Is the leader proficient in building capacity for change?

Note: Element 5.4 from Florida Principal Leadership Standard #5 addresses actual success in reducing achievement gaps.

Element 2.2 – School Climate: The leader maintains a school climate that supports student engagement in learning.

Narrative: “Climate” at a school is determined by how people treat one another and what is respected and what is not. School leaders who promote a school climate where learning is respected, effort is valued, improvement is recognized, and it is safe to acknowledge learning needs have provided students support for sustained engagement in learning.

Element 2.3 – High Expectations: The leader generates high expectations for learning growth by all students.

Narrative: The leader who expects little from students and faculty will get less than they are capable of accomplishing. “Every child can learn” takes on new meaning when supported by faculty and school leader expectations that students can and will learn a lot...not just a minimum to get by. Expecting quality is a measure of respect.

Element 2.4 – Student Performance Focus: The leader demonstrates understanding of present levels of student performance based on routine assessment processes that reflect the current reality of student proficiency on academic standards.

Narrative: Lots of talk about high expectations, goal setting, working hard, rigor, and getting results is important, but leaders need to know where students’ actual performance levels are to be able to track real progress. Knowing annual test results is useful, but it is not enough. What does the leader do to know whether progress is being made or not and whether “mid-course” corrections are required?

Domain 2 - Instructional Leadership

Narrative: School leaders do many things. Domain 2 of the ELA addresses a core of leader behaviors that impact the quality of essential elements for student learning growth. The skill sets and knowledge bases employed for this domain generate 40% of the ELA Score. The success of the school leader in providing a quality instructional framework, appropriately focused faculty development, and a student oriented learning environment are essential to student achievement.

Component 3. Instructional Plan Implementation: Effective school leaders work collaboratively to develop and implement an instructional framework that aligns curriculum with state standards, effective instructional practices, student learning needs, and assessments.

Narrative: Component 3 is focused on Florida Principal Leadership Standard #3 (FPLS). Aligning the key issues identified in the Elements into an efficient system is the leader's responsibility. This area stresses the leader's proficiency at understanding the current reality of what faculty and students know and can do regarding priority practices and goals.

Element 3.1 – FEAPs: The leader aligns the school's instructional programs and practices with the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (Rule 6A-5.065, F.A.C.) and models use of the Florida common language of instruction to guide faculty and staff implementation of the foundational principles and practices.

Narrative: Element 3.1 is focused on the school leader's understanding of the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (FEAPs) and ability to use Florida's common language of instruction. To be effective participants in school, district and statewide communities of practice working collegially for high quality implementation of the FEAPs, educators at the school level must be able to communicate and organize their efforts using the terms and concepts in the FEAPs and the Florida common language of instruction. This Element is about the school leader's proficiency in making that happen by using a core set of expectations (the FEAPs) and terminology (the common language) to guide and focus teacher discussions on instructional improvements. Florida's common language of instruction is used so that educators in Florida use the core terms in the same way and with a common understanding.

Note: The FEAPs, a FEAPs brochure, and Florida's common language may be explored at <http://www.floridaschoolleaders.org>.

Do you know where to find the text of the FEAPs and common language?

Element 3.2 – Standards-Based Instruction: The leader delivers an instructional program that implements the state’s adopted academic standards (Common Core and NGSSS) in a manner that is rigorous and culturally relevant to the students by:

- aligning academic standards, effective instruction and leadership, and student performance practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals, and
- communicating to faculty the cause and effect relationship between effective instruction on academic standards and student performance.

Narrative: Florida’s plan of action for educating our children for the 21st century is based on standards-based instruction. Course descriptions specify the standards that are to be learned in each course. All of the course content in courses for which students receive credit toward promotion/graduation is expected to be focused on the standards in the course description. This Element addresses the leader’s proficiency at making sure all students receive rigorous, culturally relevant standards-based instruction by aligning key practices with the state’s academic standards (Common Core, NGSSS, Access Points). The leader does what is necessary to make sure faculty recognize and act on the cause and effect relationship between good instruction (i.e., research-based strategies, rigorous, culturally relevant,) on the “right stuff” (the state standards adapted based on data about student needs).

Note: Course descriptions and the standards for each course may be explored at www.floridastandards.org.

Element 3.3 – Learning Goals Alignments: The leader implements recurring monitoring and feedback processes to insure that priority learning goals established for students are based on the state’s adopted student academic standards as defined in state course descriptions, presented in student accessible forms, and accompanied by scales or rubric to guide tracking progress toward student mastery.

Narrative: “Learning goals” is a high-effect size strategy that uses scales or progressive levels to monitor student growth on the way to mastery of a state academic standard. Learning goals typically take 2-9 weeks of student time to master so are more comprehensive than daily objectives. The essential issue is that the teacher creates “scales” or levels of progress toward mastery of the learning goal. Teacher and students use those scales to track progress toward mastery of the goal(s). This Element addresses the leader’s proficiency at monitoring and providing feedback on teacher and student use of priority learning goals with scales. The leader is expected to go beyond low levels of monitoring that address whether the teacher provides such goals and attends to the levels of student understanding and engagement with the learning goals. Do the students pursue those goals? Do they track their own progress? Is celebrations of success on learning goals focused on how success was achieved more than that is was obtained?

Note: Beginning in the 2012-13 school year, professional learning about learning goals and sample learning goals may be explored at www.floridastandards.org, www.floridaschoolleaders.org, and www.startwithsuccess.org.

Element 3.4 – Curriculum Alignments: Systemic processes are implemented to ensure alignment of curriculum resources with state standards for the courses taught.

Narrative: Academic standards are determined at the state level and the curriculum used to enable students to master those standards is determined at the district and school level. Curriculum must be aligned with the standards if it is to support standards-based instruction. Curriculum resources may or may not be fully aligned with the standards assigned to a specific course. The learning needs of students in specific classes may require additional or adapted curriculum materials to address issues of rigor, cultural relevance, or support for needed learning goals. School leaders maintain processes to monitor the appropriateness and alignment of curriculum to standards and intervene to make adjustments as needed to enable students to access curriculum that supports the standards.

Note: Where gaps or misalignments are noted by the processes addressed in this Element, the leader’s actions relevant to Element 8.2 (Strategic Instructional Resourcing) should be addressed.

Element 3.5 – Quality Assessments: The leader ensures the appropriate use of high quality formative and interim assessments aligned with the adopted standards and curricula.

Narrative: How do we know what our students already know, what they need to know, and how they are doing as we move forward with instruction? The school leader needs “assessment literacy” to address these questions. Where Element 1.2 addresses the leader’s proficiency in use of student performance data, this Element focuses on actions taken at the school site to generate interim assessment data and make sure faculty use formative assessment practices to monitor and adjust instruction. Assessment of student progress toward academic standards is an important aspect of tracking student progress. Leaders need to make use of data on interim and formative assessments to guide goal setting and progress monitoring. They need to provide teachers access to quality assessments and promote teacher use of formative assessments as a routine strategy. The leader needs on-going assessment data to inform a variety of decisions regarding such issues as resource allocations, student and teacher schedules, professional learning impacts, and adjustments in plans.

Element 3.6 – Faculty Effectiveness: The leader monitors the effectiveness of classroom teachers and uses contemporary research and the district’s instructional evaluation system criteria and procedures to improve student achievement and faculty proficiency on the FEAPs.

Narrative: School leaders are responsible for monitoring the effectiveness of classroom teachers. This Element addresses the proficiency and focus of the leader’s monitoring processes to maintain awareness of faculty effectiveness and the use of monitoring data to improve student and faculty performance. The focus here is on monitoring teacher use of strategies supported by contemporary research, teacher proficiency on issues contained in the district’s teacher evaluation system, what teachers do to improve student achievement, and faculty proficiency on the FEAPs.

Note: Element 3.1 is focused on the leader’s grasp of the FEAPs whereas this Element focuses on monitoring the faculties’ grasp of the FEAPs. Element 4.2 is focused on the leader’s use of monitoring data to provide timely feedback.

How do you convey to highly effective teachers specific feedback that would move them toward even higher levels of proficiency? How do you engage highly effective teachers in sharing a vision of high quality teaching with their colleagues so that there is no plateau of "good enough"?	How do you improve your conferencing skills so your feedback to teachers is both specific enough to be helpful and perceived as support rather than negative criticism?	How do you restructure your use of time so that you spend enough time on monitoring the proficiency of instructional practices and giving feedback to be an effective support for the faculty?	How do you improve your own grasp of what the FEAPs require so that your monitoring has a useful focus?

Component 4: Faculty Development: Effective school leaders recruit, retain, and develop an effective and diverse faculty and staff; focus on evidence, research, and classroom realities faced by teachers; link professional practice with student achievement to demonstrate the cause and effect relationship; facilitate effective professional development; monitor implementation of critical initiatives; and provide timely feedback to teachers so that feedback can be used to increase teacher professional practice.

Narrative: This Component is aligned with FPLS standard 4. It moves the focus from “what is the current reality” of faculty proficiency to continuous progress toward what the faculty can achieve with effort and focus.

Element 4.1 – Recruitment and Retention: The leader employs a faculty with the instructional proficiencies needed for the school population served.

Narrative: The focus of this Element is on the leader’s actions to staff the school with the best faculty possible for the needs of the school population. It addresses actions taken to anticipate staffing needs, seek out quality applicants, and efforts to retain quality staff once on the faculty.

What can be done to encourage quality teachers to stay with your school and quality applicants to seek to join the faculty?	What connections do you have to reach potential applicants other than the district's personnel office?	Have you gathered data about why teachers choose to leave your faculty? What strategies have you employed to meet the learning needs of your faculty, from novice to veteran to expert?	At what point in the school year do you check on staff retention and estimate future staffing needs? In what ways are professional learning opportunities linked to individual faculty needs?

Element 4.2 – Feedback Practices: The leader monitors, evaluates proficiency, and provides timely and actionable feedback to faculty on the effectiveness of instruction on priority instructional goals and the cause and effect relationships between professional practice and student achievement on those goals.

Narrative: Where Element 3.6 focuses on monitoring to maintain awareness of faculty effectiveness, this Element focuses on the use of the monitoring process to provide quality and timely feedback to teachers. The feedback processes need to deepen teacher understanding of the impact of their practices on student learning.

How frequently do teachers recognize that your feedback is directly linked to improving both their personal performance and that of the school? What might you do to ensure that they see this important connection?	What are some examples of focused, constructive, and meaningful feedback that you provide to your staff? How does this support their learning?	In what ways do you currently recognize faculty in providing feedback and affirmation to them? To what extent do you acknowledge the efforts of teams, as well as that of individuals?	How can frequent, focused, and constructive feedback support teachers in improving their instructional practice?

Element 4.3 – High effect size strategies: Instructional personnel receive recurring feedback on their proficiency on high effect size strategies.

Narrative: Teaching is a complex process. The “right thing to do” varies with conditions in the classroom. However, teachers need proficiency on a core repertoire of high importance strategies. These are strategies all teachers are expected to be able to use effectively. This Element is focused on the leader’s proficiency in focusing faculty attention on improvement of those “high effect size” strategies – those with higher probabilities of causing student growth when done correctly and in appropriate circumstances.

Note: Department lists of high-effect size strategies are posted at www.fldoe.org and www.floridaschoolleaders.org

Element 4.4 - Instructional Initiatives: District supported state initiatives focused on student growth are supported by the leader with specific and observable actions including monitoring of implementation and measurement of progress toward initiative goals and professional learning to improve faculty capacity to implement the initiatives. Initiatives include:

- Monitoring Text Complexity: The school leader monitors teacher implementation of instructional processes involving complex text with embedding of close reading and rereading of complex text as a routine event incorporating these two processes:
 - writing in response to text
 - text-based discussions with students
- Interventions: The school leader routinely uses teacher-collected student response data to determine effectiveness of instruction and interventions school-wide, grade-wide, class-wide, and specific to student sub-groups. (MTSS)
- Instructional Adaptations: The school leader routinely engages teachers collaboratively in a structured data-based planning and problem-solving process in order to modify instruction and interventions for accelerated student progress and to monitor and evaluate the effect of those modifications. (MTSS)
- ESOL Strategies: The school leader monitors the school and classrooms for comprehensible instruction delivered to ESOL students and the utilization of ESOL teaching strategies appropriate to the students in the class. (ESOL)]
- Other District Supported Initiatives: The school leader monitors the school and classrooms for comprehensive implementation of all other instructional initiatives supported by the district as relevant to this school.

Narrative: The Department of Education and/or district-supported initiatives focused on improving student performance require school leader support to be successful at the school site. This Element addresses the leader's proficiency in supporting such initiatives. Element 4.4 also focuses on professional learning needed to implement priority initiatives.

Note: District and FLDOE websites provide support and information about priority initiatives.

Element 4.5 – Facilitating and Leading Professional Learning: The leader manages the organization, operations, and facilities to provide the faculty with quality resources and time for professional learning and promotes, participates in, and engages faculty in effective individual and collaborative learning on priority professional goals throughout the school year.

Narrative: Element 4.5 is focused on what the leader does to engage faculty in meaningful professional learning (which includes being involved in what the faculty is learning). Professional learning on-the-job is an essential aspect of effective schools. School leaders who manage the school in ways that support both individual and collegial professional learning get better outcomes than those who do not. The leader’s personal participation in professional learning plays a major role in making professional learning efforts pay off. This Element addresses the leader’s role as a leader in professional development.

How would you describe your efforts to make certain that your professional learning is focused on student needs or faculty proficiency at high effect size strategies?

Element 4.6 – Faculty Development Alignments: The leader implements professional learning processes that enable faculty to deliver culturally relevant and differentiated instruction by:

- generating a focus on student and professional learning in the school that is clearly linked to the system-wide objectives and the school improvement plan,
- identifying faculty instructional proficiency needs (including standards-based content, research-based pedagogy, data analysis for instructional planning and improvement),
- aligning faculty development practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals,
- and using instructional technology as a learning tool for students and faculty.

Narrative: Faculty development has many aspects. This Element addresses the leader’s proficiency at developing faculty capacity to implement culturally relevant differentiated instruction by aligning the various faculty developments processes and practices with certain key issues (Standards-based content, research-based methods, data for planning, etc. as specified in the text of the standard.)

In what ways are professional learning opportunities linked to individual faculty needs?

Element 4.7 – Actual Improvement: The leader improves the percentage of effective and highly effective teachers on the faculty.

Narrative: An Element required by 1012.34 F.S., the focus is on whether the accumulated impact of the leader's actions result in positive trend lines on teacher effectiveness. Evidence gathered from Component #3 provide a base line that, along with teacher rating in the district's teacher evaluation system and student growth measures, enable assessment of whether actual improvement in teacher's proficiency is occurring.

Component 5: Learning Environment: Effective school leaders structure and monitor a school learning environment that improves learning for all of Florida’s diverse student population.

Narrative: This Component is aligned with FPLS standard 5. Much of what student’s experience in school is a result of decisions and actions by the adults in the school. Learning environments that are success oriented, student centered, treat diversity as an asset, and focus on eliminating achievement gaps support students preparation for fulfilling lives.

Element 5.1 – Student Centered: The leader maintains a safe, respectful and inclusive student-centered learning environment that is focused on equitable opportunities for learning and building a foundation for a fulfilling life in a democratic society and global economy by providing recurring monitoring and feedback on the quality of the learning environment and aligning learning environment practices with system objectives, improvement planning, faculty proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals.

Narrative: School leaders who monitor what students experience by being enrolled in the leader’s school have better insights on how to make the system work than those who do not monitor impact of policies and practices on students. It is the leader’s responsibility to know whether student life is equitable, respectful, and supportive of engagement in learning.

What practices have you engaged in to increase professional knowledge opportunities for colleagues across the school system regarding your efforts to ensure the creation and maintenance of a learning environment conducive to successful teaching and learning for all?	What evidence would you accept you were ensuring the creation and maintenance of a learning environment conducive to successful teaching and learning for all?	How would you describe your efforts to provide clear evidence that you create and maintain a learning environment that is generally conducive to ensure effective teaching and learning, although there may be some exceptions?	What strategies are you intentionally implementing to create and maintain a safe and respectful environment to ensure successful teaching and learning or addresses safety concerns as they arise?

Element 5.2 - Success Oriented: Initiates and supports continuous improvement processes and a multi-tiered system of supports focused on the students' opportunities for success and well-being.

Narrative: The issues in 5.1 focus on monitoring how school policy and practice affect the quality of student lives. This Element shifts focus from those broad issues to what happens at the school that creates opportunities for student success and students' perceptions that school life is organized to do something good for them. School should be rigorous and demanding but also implemented in ways that create recurring opportunities for success.

Element 5.4 – Achievement Gaps: The leader engages faculty in recognizing and understanding cultural and developmental issues related to student learning by identifying and addressing strategies to minimize and/or eliminate achievement gaps associated with student subgroups within the school.

Narrative: Where Element 5.3 is focused on the broad array of diversity factors that impact success of individual students and student sub-groups, Element 5.4 focuses on academic growth of specific sub-groups whose academic performance lags behind what they are capable of achieving. The leader is expected to prepare the faculty to do what is needed to meet the academic improvement needs of the sub-group(s).

Domain 3: Organizational Leadership

Narrative: This domain addresses proficiencies that impact the quality of a broad array of school operations. The focus is applying these proficiencies to improve student achievement, instructional leadership, and professional conduct.

Component 6: Decision Making: Effective school leaders employ and monitor a decision-making process that is based on vision, mission, and improvement priorities using facts and data; manage the decision making process, but not all decisions, using the process to empower others and distribute leadership when appropriate; establish personal deadlines for themselves and the entire organization; and use a transparent process for making decisions and articulating who makes which decisions.

Narrative: This Component is aligned to FPLS standard #6. How decisions are made can be as important as what decisions are made. The leader's proficiency at balancing the various aspects of decision-making is the focus of this area.

Element 6.1 – Prioritization Practices: The leader gives priority attention to decisions that impact the quality of student learning and teacher proficiency, gathering and analyzing facts and data, and assessing alignment of decisions with school vision, mission, and improvement priorities.

Narrative: Leaders make many decisions. Those that impact student learning and teacher proficiency require priority attention. The focus is the leader's ability to make sure that decisions on student learning and faculty proficiency are not lost among the lower priority issues or given inadequate attention because of all the other things leaders do.

What might be some of the things you learned about problem solving that will influence your leadership practice in the future?	What can you do to enable your sub-ordinate leaders to be more effective in problem solving?	What are some specific recollections (data) that come to mind that define your thinking about effective problem solving?	How would you describe your problem solving process?

Element 6.3 – Quality Control: The leader maintains recurring processes for evaluating decisions for effectiveness, equity, intended and actual outcome(s); implements follow-up actions revealed as appropriate by feedback and monitoring; and revises decisions or implementing actions as needed.

Narrative: Decisions are made....but there is a follow-up process. What was the impact of the decisions? The focus here is the leader's follow-up on decisions and capacity to make revisions where needed.

How do you continue to clarify the decision-making process in a dynamic, changing environment?	Why is it necessary for you as a school leader to reevaluate prior decisions and programs in light of emerging research, personal experience, and changing situations?	What will you do from now on to ensure previous decisions and programs are revisited and evaluated on a routine basis?	When do you take time with your leadership team to reflect on decisions that have been made? In what ways do you evaluate decisions on the basis of student achievement?

Element 6.4 – Distributive Leadership: The leader empowers others and distributes leadership when appropriate.

Narrative: A school is too complex for one person to make all decisions. Some of the functions of leadership must be shared with others. Developing capacity for success in a workforce requires enabling other people to be responsible for meaningful decisions. The leader’s capacity to share the “right stuff” and distribute decision making among other appropriate staff is the focus here.

Element 6.5 – Technology Integration: The leader employs effective technology integration to enhance decision making and efficiency throughout the school. The leader processes changes and captures opportunities available through social networking tools, accesses and processes information through a variety of online resources, incorporates data-driven decision making with effective technology integration to analyze school results, and develops strategies for coaching staff as they integrate technology into teaching, learning, and assessment processes.

Narrative: Technology was a separate standard in the 2005 Florida Principal Leadership Standards (FPLS). By 2011 the state had made great strides toward accepting technology into the schools. In the 2011 FPLS, technology moved from a separate general “pro-technology” standard to focused applications of technology embedded in several standards. This Element focuses on technology integration and the leader’s use of technology to improve decision-making processes in several priority areas.

Component 7. Leadership Development: Effective school leaders actively cultivate, support, and develop other leaders within the organization, modeling trust, competency, and integrity in ways that positively impact and inspire growth in other potential leaders.

Narrative: This Component aligns to Standard 7. Leaders are developed by other leaders. This is a process critical to an organization's capacity to improve over time and sustain quality processes. This Component focuses on what leaders do to develop leadership in others.

Element 7.1 – Leadership Team: The leader identifies and cultivates potential and emerging leaders, promotes teacher-leadership functions focused on instructional proficiency and student learning, and aligns leadership development practices with system objectives, improvement planning, leadership proficiency needs, and appropriate instructional goals.

Narrative: The FPLS are based on a presumption that the school leader works with and through a team of other people to insure coordination and focus of school operations and improvements. Leadership teams get things done!

Element 7.4 – Relationships: The leader develops sustainable and supportive relationships between school leaders, parents, community, higher education, and business leaders.

Narrative: This is a fundamentally important skill set. Leaders get quality work done through other people. The skill set of relationship building, including networking and engaging others in a shared vision, are hallmarks of quality leaders.

In what ways might you further extend your reach within the district to help others throughout the district benefit from your knowledge and skill in establishing relationships among key stakeholder groups?	What strategies are you employing so you can share your experiences relative to establishing relationships with key stakeholders to support potential and emerging leaders?	In what ways are you working to establish networks with key stakeholder groups to cultivate and support potential and emerging leaders in your school?	How might your relationships with faculty and key stakeholder groups help to cultivate and support potential and emerging leaders in your school?

Component 8. School Management: Effective school leaders manage the organization, operations, and facilities in ways that maximize the use of resources to promote a safe, efficient, legal, and effective learning environment; effectively manage and delegate tasks and consistently demonstrate fiscal efficiency; and understand the benefits of going deeper with fewer initiatives as opposed to superficial coverage of everything.

Narrative: This Component aligns with Standard 8. A school is an “organization.” School leaders manage implementation of many rules, regulations, and policies. However, the “organization” is the people working together to provide learning to students. What leaders do to manage those people and the environment in which they work is the focus of this area.

Element 8.1 – Organizational Skills: The leader organizes time, tasks, and projects effectively with clear objectives, coherent plans, and establishes appropriate deadlines for self, faculty, and staff.

Narrative: Time, tasks, and projects all need organization to have the desired impact. This Element focuses on the key aspects of organization essential to school success.

Element 8.2 – Strategic Instructional Resourcing: The leader maximizes the impact of school personnel, fiscal and facility resources to provide recurring systemic support for instructional priorities and a supportive learning environment.

Narrative: Resources are always limited. How well a leader does at putting resources where they are needed and when they are needed to support instructional goals is the focus here. Do teachers and students get what they need when they need it?

When resources are limited, what actions do you take as the school leader to allocate them most efficiently?

Element 8.3 – Collegial Learning Resources: The leader manages schedules, delegates, and allocates resources to provide recurring systemic support for collegial learning processes focused on school improvement and faculty development.

Narrative: Team learning is an essential element in a learning organization. Does the leader provide needed supports to collegial learning? Are barriers to success removed? Everyone working in isolation reduces the probability of improvements. Collegial processes need resource support. This Element assesses the leader’s proficiency at providing that support.

Component 9. Communication: Effective school leaders use appropriate oral, written, and electronic communication and collaboration skills to accomplish school and system goals by:

- Practicing two-way communications, seeking to listen and learn from and building and maintaining relationships with students, faculty, parents, and community;
- Managing a process of regular communications to staff and community keeping all stakeholders engaged in the work of the school; and
- Recognizing individuals for good work; and maintaining high visibility at school and in the community.

Narrative: The “voice of the school” represents a core set of communication processes that shape perceptions about the school – the leader’s communications central among them. The leader must manage the “voice of the school” so clear, coherent and accurate information flows to faculty, students, and stakeholders. The perceptions of those involved in the success of the school need to be heard, acknowledged, and understood.

Element 9.1 – Constructive Conversations: The leader actively listens to and learns from students, staff, parents, and community stakeholders and creates opportunities within the school to engage students, faculty, parents, and community stakeholders in constructive conversations about important issues.

Narrative: Skillful “speaking” is important. So is skillful listening. People can engage in conversation on many things, but some things are more important to school improvement than others. Making sure speaking and listening occurs on the important issues is a leader’s task.

In addition to the practices at the effective level, the highly effective leader routinely mentors others within the district to effectively employ key active listening skills (e.g. wait time, paraphrasing, asking clarifying questions) when interacting with diverse stakeholder groups about high achievement for all students. There is evidence of the leader making use of what was learned in constructive conversations with others in the leader’s subsequent actions, presentations, and adjustments to actions.	The leader systematically (e.g., has a plan, with goals, measurable strategies, and a frequent-monthly-monitoring schedule) and reciprocally listens to and communicates with students, parents, staff, and community using multiple methods (i.e., oral, written, and electronic) to seek input/feedback and to inform instructional and leadership practices. The leader systematically communicates with diverse stakeholders about high achievement for all students.	The leader’s involvement in regard to listening to and communicating with students, parents, staff, and community is primarily unplanned and/or initiated by others rather than the leader “reaching out.” The leader has only a few methods to seek input/feedback with the intent to inform instructional and leadership practices. The leader’s communications with stakeholders about high achievement for all students are not carefully planned and implemented.	The leader’s visibility within the community is virtually non-existent; conducts little to no interactions with stakeholders regarding the work of the school. The leader is isolated from students, parents, staff, and community and engages in no or minimal listening to and communicating with them to seek input/feedback and inform instructional and leadership practices. The leader avoids engaging faculty and/or stakeholders in conversations on controversial issues that need to be addressed in the interest of school improvement.

Element 9.2 – Clear Goals and Expectations: The leader communicates goals and expectations clearly and concisely using Florida’s common language of instruction and appropriate written and oral skills, communicates student expectations and performance information to students, parents, and community, and ensures faculty receives timely information about student learning requirements, academic standards, and all other local, state, and federal administrative requirements and decisions.

Narrative: Proficiency in the competencies addressed in this Element impacts success on many other Elements. The most successful school leaders are able to provide clear goals and expectations on every aspect of school operations and instructional leadership. You need to do the “school leader’s two step.” Having clear goals and expectations is step one, communicating them so others can act on them is step two.

Element 9.3 – Accessibility: Maintains high visibility at school and in the community, regularly engages stakeholders in the work of the school, and utilizes appropriate technologies for communication and collaboration.

Narrative: Leaders need to be seen by those they are to lead...and those who are asked to engage in rigorous effort on the leader’s goals need access to the leader. While leaders must manage their time, they must also make sure those who need access can get it in reasonable ways and timeframes. In a 21st century technological society use of social networking and other technologies to promote accessibility is a valuable leadership competency.

Element 9.4 – Recognitions: The leader recognizes individuals, collegial work groups, and supporting organizations for effective performance.

Narrative: Leading is about enabling others to succeed. Recognition of the successes and contributions of others is a key leadership function. Recognition from the leader is motivating and focusing. The recognition needed is more than “good job.” It identifies what people did to generate the success being recognized. Recognizing the way in which people succeed encourages them to continue those practices and informs others “by what methods” they may do the same.

Domain 4 - Professional and Ethical Behavior

Narrative: This domain is focused on the professional integrity and dedication to excellence of the school leader. The Elements in this domain focus on behaviors essential to success as a school leader.

Component 10: Professional and Ethical Behaviors: Effective school leaders demonstrate personal and professional behaviors consistent with quality practices in education and as a community leader by staying informed on current research in education and demonstrating their understanding of the research, engage in professional development opportunities that improve personal professional practice and align with the needs of the school system, and generate a professional development focus in their school that is clearly linked to the system-wide strategic objectives.

Narrative: There are two broad Components that are the focus of evaluation of behavior and ethics. One is approached as Component 10 of the ELA which is focused on Florida Principal Leadership Standard #10 (FPLS). The Elements in Component 10 address resiliency, professional learning, commitment, and conduct. The other major professional behavior area, Deliberate Practice, is a separate metric, scored separately and, when combined with the overall FLSA score, generates the Leadership Practice Score.

Element 10.1 – Resiliency: The leader demonstrates resiliency in pursuit of student learning and faculty development by:

- staying focused on the school vision,
- reacting constructively to adversity and barriers to success,
- acknowledging and learning from errors,
- constructively managing disagreement and dissent with leadership,
- bringing together people and resources with the common belief that the organization can grow stronger when it applies knowledge, skills, and
- productive attitudes in the face of adversity.

Narrative: The lead Element in this ELA domain is focused on resiliency. Leadership takes strength of character and a capacity to “weather the storm(s)” to get quality results. It includes learning from mistakes and sticking with it until you get it right.

Element 10.2 – Professional Learning: The leader engages in professional learning that improves professional practice in alignment with the needs of the school and system and demonstrates explicit improvement in specific performance areas based on previous evaluations and formative feedback.

Narrative: Professional learning is addressed in several ELA Elements, each from a different perspective. Element 4.5 is focused on what the leader does to engage faculty in meaningful professional learning (which includes being involved in what the faculty is learning). Element 4.4 focuses on professional learning needed to implement priority initiatives. Element 4.6 addresses alignment of faculty professional learning with improvement of instruction. The Deliberate Practice metric concentrates on a very few issues where the leader drives for deep learning and personal mastery of a few “thin slices.” Element 10.2 is focused on the impact of the leader’s professional learning – does the leader’s learning result in improved performance?

The messaging and support systems of the effective principal are expanded to engage parents and the community at large in participating in actions that promote student success and mitigate or eliminate multiple barriers to success. The principal's actions on behalf of students form a foundation of mutual respect between students, faculty and the community.	There are programs and processes within the school that focus all students on the importance of success in school and multiple tiers of support to assist them in overcoming barriers to success. Positive slogans and exhortations to succeed are supported with specific and realistic guidance and supports on how to succeed and overcome barriers. The schools vision of success for all students is shared with the community at large.	The leader demonstrates professional concern for students and for the development of the student's potential but implementation of processes to identify barriers to student success have limited scope and have resulted in actions to mitigate those barriers and provide supports for success only for some students. There are gaps in processes that engage all faculty in understanding the student population and the community in which they live. Some student sub-groups do not perceive the school as focused on their best interests.	Other than slogans and exhortations to do better, there is minimal or no evidence of principal leadership being employed to implement the FEAPs and FPLS for the benefit of students in the school, and the leader is not perceived by staff, students, or community as a sincere and effective advocate for the students.

EVALUTION FORM: Annual PERFORMANCE LEVEL

The ELA short form is used to calculate a Summative Performance Level for ELA after all element ratings have been entered by a supervisor. The SGM calculation is determined by the evaluation services department and entered into the digital electronic system for each leader. The SGM is based on each leader's stability group (growth scores of students assigned to teachers supervised by the leader) and determined from FCAT reading and math learning gains, EOC learning gains, FAA, and additional growth measurements for non-FCAT courses as they become available). The digital system will combine the two halves of the leader evaluation (50% ELA Score and 50% SGM Score) automatically and populate the final evaluation form that includes the fields below. This electronic system for final evaluation is designed to match the E3 teacher evaluation currently in use.

Name: _____

School: _____ School Year: _____

Evaluator: _____ District: _____

Evaluator's Title: _____ Date Completed: _____

Directions:

Complete the ELA scoring process by examining all sources of evidence for each of the four domains, components, and elements and using the results from the ELA process as it applies to the school leader's performance. The Plan of Deliberate Practice Score (PDP) is imbedded within Domain 4, Component 10, Element 2. After all element scores have been entered, the system will calculate an overall ELA score of the school leader's practice, and enter the score in the appropriate ELA field. It will also enter the SGM score as described above into the appropriate SGM field. Final calculations will be made by combining 50% of the ELA score and 50% of the SGM score to determine the final evaluation score. The leader should then sign the form and obtain the signature of the school leader.

Fields will include:

A. Leadership Practice Score (88-100=HE, 64-87.9=E, 59-63.9=NI, 0-58.9=U)

ELA score _____ x .50 = _____

(PDP score is imbedded within ELA score)

B. Student Growth Measure Score (72-100=HE, 40-71.9=E, 25-39.9=NI, 0-24.9=U)

SGM score _____ x .50 = _____

C. Final Evaluation Score (see chart below)

A + B = _____

Final Evaluation Score ranges	Performance Level Rating
80-100	Highly Effective
52-79.9	Effective
42-51.9	Needs Improvement
0-41.9	Unsatisfactory

Note: This chart matches our teacher evaluation and is subject to change based on FCAT test results from the 2012 test administration (due to FCAT 2.0 changes)

Final Evaluation level is Highly Effective Effective Needs Improvement Unsatisfactory

School Leader Signature: _____

Date: _____

Evaluator's Signature: _____
